For Cats

The Indoor Pet Initiative (IPI) provides information, tools, and advice based on the soundest, most up-to-date science available for pet owners and veterinarians to create plans tailored to create and sustain a thriving relationship with their pets. Our goal is to help you and your cats have the best life together you possibly can. The indoor Cat site has information in the following sections:

Basic Indoor Cat Needs, the place to start to enrich the lives of your cats. Here we provide a detailed checklist and some suggestions for making helpful changes.

The Unique Feline tells about how cats behave in nature, and how we can provide safe and healthy outlets for these behaviors indoors.

Feline Life Stressors are common situations that affect cat's health and welfare, and how to avoid them!

Problem solving is the place to go if you are looking for help to solve problems related to litter box problems, conflict between cats, anxiety, and boredom.

Keeping Indoor Cats Healthy has a video to show you how to create an enriched indoor environment for your cat.

Pet Identification will tell you about how to be sure your cats can be returned to you in case they get lost.
