Pet Microchip Identification

brought to you by

M4S ID, the companion animal div. of Microchip4Solutions Inc.

M4S ID

MICROCHIP4SOLUTIONS INC.

How the M4S ID System Works

1. The microchip (about the size and shape of a grain of rice) is implanted by the veterinary professional under the skin between the shoulder blades.

2. The stainless steel collar tag, containing the database phone number and an individual tag number, is placed on the pet's collar.

3. The information is registered onto M4S ID's North American pet recovery database.

4. If the pet is lost:

a. with the collar tag on, the finder can call the Toll Free phone number, and the pet can be traced to its owner by the collar tag number

OR

b. without the collar tag on, the pet can be scanned at any veterinary clinic or animal shelter, and the microchip number will come up. A call into the M4S ID database will provide the caller with the owner's information.

In either case, M4S ID will assist in the re-unification of pet and owner.

To ensure that your pet has the quickest recovery, it is important to supply M4S ID with all the necessary information at time of chipping. Also, update your information whenever there is a change.

M4S ID does not charge for address or ownership changes.

There is no yearly maintenance fee.

Keep all of your pet's information on hand with the M4S ID Pet Passport. Ask your veterinarian for more information.

Why Microchip?

Microchipping is a permanent form of identification. Tags may be removed or fall off, tattoos may stretch or fade, but a microchip is always there to positively identify each pet to its owner.

Available from Veterinarians across Canada

Microchipping is the answer for cats that do not or will not wear collars.

M4S ID carries both FDx A FECAVA microchips and National Companion Animal Coalition (NCAC) approved FDx B ISO microchips.

The M4S ID FDx B ISO Microchips are accepted by the Canadian Kennel Club.

M4S ID has passed the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association Microchip Review Process and the National Companion Animal Coalition Approval Process.

The Ontario Veterinary Medical Association is the custodian of the M4S ID Database.

M4S ID microchips are being utilized by veterinarians, humane societies, and breeders across Canada.

M4S ID reconciles the registration files to ensure that the microchips are registered onto the system.
